

Common tea has a lot of tannin in it. The tea-taste develops first; then the tannin comes along.

If you steep it only long enough to draw-out the tea, you get weak tea. If you let it steep longer, the tannin, harsh-puckery taste, completely smothers the tea-taste,—fluid that really can't be called tea.

Fine tea, like Schilling's, contains very little tannin. If you steep it right—not too long—you skip the tannin altogether. You get nothing but delicious, invigorating tea.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In packages lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.

Spitzberger Coal Fields Valuable

CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 14.—Coal fields are the most valuable assets of Spitzberger for which the supreme council at Paris has given Norway sovereignty. It is estimated here that if these fields are developed they will provide coal enough to supply northern Norway and the northern district of Russia.

Spitzberger coal is said to be the best grade of hard coal. Mining for one at present is not much beyond the experimental stage in Spitzbergen. The fishing about the islands is very poor.

Norwegian expeditions have done much exploration work and the largest coal fields have been acquired by the Norwegian mining companies.

VALUABLE DEPOSITS ARE LOST BY U. S.

American Surveyors Use Canadian Lines of Early Russian Monuments

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Jan. 14.—Valuable gold deposits near Hyder, south of Ketchikan, which are reported to be miles in extent, have been lost to the United States by the decision of American surveyors defining the boundary line between Alaska and Canada. It was decided to follow the lines of Canadian surveys rather than the monuments of early Russian lines.

Recent development of the properties near Hyder reports of which spread to the outside world, have elicited hundreds of inquiries from the United States and even Great Britain, which, it is believed, may press a "rush" to Hyder next spring rivaling the famous Klondike stampede. The American engineers on the official boundary survey, agreed with the Canadian party to leave the lines of the Russian survey and instead of following a natural ridge up to the headwaters of Salmon river, turned west at an angle of 45 degrees, throwing into Canada the upper Salmon river district and the hills where are located the majority of the Hyder deposits. Hyder is on the American line, and because of the topography of the country, the Canadian claims must be approached from the territory of Alaska.

According to reports received here, the mines, while said to be remarkably rich in ore, are difficult of access and considerable development work is necessary before they can be put on a paying basis. At the Premier mine, now said to be controlled by New York interests, thousands of dollars have been spent in building roads, and thousands more in development of the mine itself. For miles on both the American and Canadian sides, every claim has been staked and there is little ground left open in the district, it is reported.

Experienced miners here say that a "rush" to the district would result in a loss for prospectors without capital, who would be unable to get at the ore.

20,000,000 Americans Would Ratify Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—With the announced purpose of seeking ways and means for the early ratification of peace, a conference which delegates said represented 20,000,000 Americans began here today.

Oscar Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, presided as chairman. National organizations represented included the American Federation of Labor, the League to Enforce Peace, National Advertising Clubs of America, Farmers' Alliance, Women's Christian Temperance Union, and World Peace foundation.

Beginning with a joint conference, the meeting is expected to develop into a select committee of delegates which would present the decisions reached to Democratic and Republican leaders in the senate. The committee would also call at the White House for the same purpose.

U. S. Letter Telegraph Service is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Representative Bee, Democrat, Texas, has introduced a bill endorsed by Postmaster General Burleson, providing for a letter telegraph service under the supervision of the postoffice department. Under the bill the postmaster general would be authorized to negotiate contracts with the telegraph companies for the letter service.

Representative Kitchin, Democrat, North Carolina, also has prepared a similar measure. Both propose a rate not exceeding 30 cents per 100 words, and that the rate fixed by the postoffice department for the message be limited to the cost of the service.

Mr. Bee said that Mr. Burleson believed that contracts could be made with the wire companies at approximately twenty cents a hundred words.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drugist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

Michigan Wets Deny Validity of Dry Law

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 13.—Validity of the action of the Michigan legislature in ratifying the federal prohibition amendment without submitting the question to a referendum was argued in the state supreme court here today. The question comes into the court following refusal by Secretary of State Vaughan to accept initiatory petitions seeking a referendum on the measure. Attorneys for the petitioners obtained from the court an order requiring the secretary of state to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be issued requiring him to accept the petitions and place the amendment before the people next November.

Assistant Attorney General Retan argued for the state contending that only acts of the state legislature are subject to referendum. He insisted an act meant a bill passed by the legislature. Attorneys for the wet advocates contended that legislative power rested solely in the electorate.

War Department Asked Charges Against French Before U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—After spirited debate, the house today by a vote of 182 to 123 adopted a resolution by Representative Gallivan, Democrat, of Massachusetts, calling on the war department for the names of all officers and others who were awarded the distinguished service medal for their services during the war. Most of the Democrats voted against the resolution.

Representative Gallivan made a bitter attack on General March, chief of staff, while Representative Steel, of Pennsylvania, vigorously defended the chief of staff, the latter declaring that General March had fought abroad "like a true soldier and returned here over his own opposition."

Chairman Kahn of the military committee, questioned some of Mr. Gallivan's statements, and Representative Calder, Democrat, New York, said attacks on the officers trained at West Point and Leavenworth were unjustified.

TRY THE UTAH RATION.
The U. A. C. Experiment Station Has Developed a Poultry Ration
Adapted to West.

The experiment station of the Utah Agricultural college, after extensive tests, has developed a poultry ration particularly adapted to western conditions which it calls the Utah ration. This ration has been proved most satisfactory by the college experimenters. It is as follows: Scratch feed, two or three hours before the fowls go to roost they are fed in a straw litter a little more than they will eat so that all are well supplied and some left over until morning. When the fowls get off the perches in the morning they get some good vigorous exercise working for this grain left in the straw.

Wheat 200 pounds, corn 100 pounds. Keep a dry mash in the feed hopper open during the afternoon and feed this mash moistened with buttermilk about noon, just what the fowls will clean up in a few minutes.

Mash—Bran 200 pounds, shorts 100 pounds, cornmeal 100 pounds, chopped barley 100 pounds, meat scraps 60 pounds, salt 3 pounds or about 1/2 pound salt to 100 pounds of mash. In the wet mash is added about 20 pounds of dry alfalfa chopped fine.

Keep the fowls on free range where possible with plenty of green feed growing from early spring to late fall, or feed during summer and winter, sugar beets, alfalfa, clover, etc., all they will eat.

Oyster-shell and charcoal are kept in a feed hopper available all the time. Chopped oats may also be kept in a separate hopper when desired. Good fresh water is always available.

Fattening Rations Content—When the broilers or old stock are ready to fatten or finish for market, they should be confined where they get little opportunity to exercise or run about, and should receive only soft feeds. This finishing period lasts from 8 days to 2 weeks depending on the age and condition of the fowls. The feed should be as follows: 100 pounds shorts, 100 pounds cornmeal, 50 pounds bran, mixed with buttermilk, if available, if not skim milk so that the mixture will have the consistency of gruel or mush.
